(1978) trained four monkeys (macaca fascicularis) to track a moving target on a cathode ray display by moving a handle horizontally that in turn produced horizontal autonomous flight for detection, localization, and ... - autonomous flight for detection, localization, and tracking of moving targets with a small quadrotor justin thomas, jake welde, giuseppe loianno, kostas daniilidis, and vijay kumar abstract in this work, we address the autonomous ight of a small quadrotor, enabling tracking of a moving object. the 15 cm diameter, 250 g robot relies only on onboard pressure - i - canfieldysics.iastate - pressure scales are moving target. novel materials and ground states hydrostatic and uniaxial pressure  $p = 0$   $p = 0$  how to check? pressure sensor (small ! and sensitive !)  $p_i = p_j$  and everything ... novel materials and ground states the "bridgman method" is based on the invention of tammann in göttingen early in the century. he used the ... nomad: towards non-intrusive moving-target defense against ... - • we propose nomad, a novel, non-intrusive moving-target defense system against web bots. while certainly not perfect, it is a new, further step towards a moving-target, defense-in-depth architecture and can greatly complement existing defense solutions. • we implement a prototype system and evaluate it against
